MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

Converted

This mark scheme accompanies a converted question paper: Cambridge IGCSE First Language English 0500/12 February/March 2024, restructured to the 2027–2029 Paper 1 format. The reading texts in the insert are unchanged.

Where a question has been carried over, the indicative content is transferred unchanged, because the text has not changed and the creditable points have not changed. Questions marked generated are new and their indicative content has been written for this conversion.

Level descriptor tables are reproduced unchanged from the official 2027 specimen mark scheme (0500/01/SP/27). Conversion decisions are recorded in the note on page 4.

Generic Marking Principles

All examiners must apply these general marking principles when marking candidate responses. Examiners must apply them alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptions for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme must also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptions for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptions for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptions.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however, the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptions in mind.

English & Media-Specific Marking Principles

(To be read in conjunction with the Generic Marking Principles (and requiring further guidance on how to place marks within levels))

Components using level descriptions:

- We use level descriptions as a guide to broad understanding of the qualities normally expected of, or typical of, work in a level.
- Level descriptions are a means of general guidance, and should not be interpreted as hurdle statements.
- Where indicative content notes are supplied for a question, these are not a prescription of required content, and must not be treated as such. Alternative correct points and unexpected answers in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated.
- While we may have legitimate expectations as to the ground most answers may occupy, we must at all times be prepared to meet candidates on their chosen ground, provided it is relevant ground (e.g. clearly related to and derived from a relevant passage/text and meeting the mark scheme requirements for the question).

Components using point-based marking:

Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term).

b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct.

c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons …).

d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used incorrectly.)

e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities.

f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).

g DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion).

Notes on this converted mark scheme

Question 1 order. Sub-parts run in the order of their anchors in Text A. Generated items were interleaved by anchor, not appended: the R4 item on ‘whisperings’ (¶2) sits with old 1(c) as 1(c)(ii); the R3 item on Ramu (¶3) sits between old 1(d)(i) and 1(d)(ii) as 1(d)(ii), so old 1(d)(ii) becomes 1(d)(iii). Five letters, (a)–(e).

Question 3 mark split. This paper follows the specimen allocation exactly: 3(a) 2 × 1, 3(b) 3 × 1, 3(c) 5, 3(d) 10, totalling 20.

The source 2(a) carried four one-mark identification items and the 2027 3(a) has room for two. Kept 2(a)(ii) ‘edge of extinction’ (R1) and 2(a)(iv) ‘eye-watering expense’ (R2), so the pair spans explicit and implicit retrieval. The items not carried forward are:

- 2(a)(i) small wooden building which has no lights on → ‘(a / the) darkened log cabin’ (line 1), R1
- 2(a)(iii) used to interacting with humans → ‘(are) accustomed to (human) contact’ (line 23), R1

Question 3(d). The 2027 language task prints a single extract and names a specific focus, where the source 2(d) referenced two paragraphs. Kept: paragraph 10, ‘Next morning …’ (meeting the wolves), printed in full; 13 indicative entries carried. Dropped: paragraph 9, ‘From inside …’ (the first evening in the lodge) and its 10 indicative entries and overview.

- 2(a) and 4 use the specimen mark line (‘Up to 10 marks are available for reading and up to N marks for writing’) in place of the 2024 wording, matching the specimen and the existing converted papers.
- 3(c) was 3 marks with point-banded guidance; it is now 5 marks on specimen Table D. Its old 3/2/1 award rules no longer apply; indicative content is unchanged.
- 3(a)/3(b): underlining converted to bold; ‘words underlined’ becomes ‘words in bold’.

Table substitutions. Tables A, B, C, D, E, F and G below are taken unchanged from the official 2027 specimen mark scheme 0500/01/SP/27. No table has been reworded or rescaled.

Generated questions. 1(c(ii)), 1(d(ii)), 2(b) are new to this conversion. Each was tested for answerability against the insert alone before its indicative content was written. 2(b) targets the writer’s attitude, so it cannot be answered from content already creditable in the 2(a) summary.

Insert. Insert passed through unchanged. Its 'Read Text X, and then answer Question …' cue lines still carry the 2024 question numbers (1(a)–(e), 1(f), 2(a)–(d) and 3); the conversion prompt forbids editing the insert, so candidates should be told the cue lines are superseded by the question paper. Text C line 5 ends with an ellipsis glyph that does not extract from the PDF; it is reproduced as '…' per the original mark scheme.

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question 1

This question tests reading assessment objectives R1, R2, R3, R4 and R5 (20 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R3 analyse, evaluate and develop facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text

R4 demonstrate understanding of how writers achieve effects and influence readers

R5 select and use information for specific purposes.

Question	Answer	Marks
1(a)	What inspired the story of Mowgli according to the text? • ancient Indian fable(s) (texts)	1
1(b)(i)	Using your own words, explain what the text means by: 'animal inhabitants' (line 2) Award 2 marks for full explanation (both strands). Award 1 mark for partial explanation. Credit alternatives explaining the whole phrase – for example, fauna. • creature(s) / beast(s) / mammal(s) • which live there / at home in the jungle / native to / occupants / resident(s) / dwelling / population / indigenous	2
1(b)(ii)	Using your own words, explain what the text means by: 'fantastic take' (line 4) Award 2 marks for full explanation (both strands). Award 1 mark for partial explanation. Credit alternatives explaining the whole phrase. • strange / remarkable / bizarre / imaginary / unexpected / extraordinary / amazing / incredible / unrealistic / weird / unbelievable / unlikely / implausible / marvellous / wonderful • version / interpretation / (distinct) treatment / variation / perspective / adaptation / view(point) / opinion	2
1(c)(i)	Re-read paragraph 2 ('The movie's story … such tales?'). Give two examples of myths of children being raised by animals. Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 2. • Tarzan • Romulus / Remus / founder(s) of Rome	2
1(c)(ii)	Re-read paragraph 2 ('The movie's story … such tales?'). Explain the effect of the word 'whisperings' (line 6). Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 2. • suggests rumour / hearsay rather than established fact • quiet / faint / barely heard – the stories are not stated openly or with confidence • secretive / mysterious – passed on informally, by word of mouth, over time • hints that the stories are vague / unreliable / unlikely to be true	2
1(d)(i)	Re-read paragraphs 3 and 4 ('Of other similar … in the wild.'). Identify two facts that are known about the boy named Ramu. Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 2. • found in a forest / found in 1976 • had claw-like nails	2
1(d)(ii)	Re-read paragraphs 3 and 4 ('Of other similar … in the wild.'). Using your own words, explain why the writer suggests that Ramu's story may not be true. Award 1 mark for each idea, predominantly in own words, up to a maximum of 3. Answers which are entirely in the words of the text should not be credited. • it only appeared that he had been raised by wolves / the writer casts doubt on the claim ('or so it seemed') • the account quickly started to fall apart / came undone ('began to unravel') • people noticed it resembled accounts already in print / it may have been copied from other stories ('spotting parallels to other published stories') • it was never proved / verified ('could not be confirmed') • it is suspiciously similar to the fictional Mowgli ('just like Mowgli')	3

1(d)(iii)	Re-read paragraphs 3 and 4 ('Of other similar … in the wild.'). Explain why some people might think that chimpanzees could adopt a human child. Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 3. • show human traits (allow: social traits / show empathy / show kindness) • closest (living evolutionary cousins) to humans • adopt other (orphan) chimps	3
1(e)	Re-read paragraphs 5 and 6 ('And there are … just yet.'). Using your own words, explain why most people are unlikely to believe that tales of animals adopting humans are true. Award 1 mark for each idea, predominantly in own words, up to a maximum of 3. Answers which are entirely in the words of the text should not be credited. • instinctive adoption most often the case / more likely to adopt one of own species / humans have very different DNA to animals / animals want to pass on (their/similar) DNA to next generation • humans look very different to animals / humans look alien to animals • human (babies) take a lot of resources / human child unlikely to be able to contribute usefully to animal's life • no verified evidence	3

Question 2(a) tests the following reading assessment objectives (10 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R5 select and use information for specific purposes.

This question also tests the following writing assessment objectives (5 marks):

W1 articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined

W2 organise and structure facts, ideas and opinions for effect

W3 use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures appropriate to context.

Question 2(b) tests the following reading assessment objectives (5 marks):

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R3 analyse, evaluate and develop facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text.

Marking criteria for Question 2(a)

Table A, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for Reading. This question tests assessment objectives R1, R2 and R5.

Level	Marks	Description
5	9–10	• An effective response that demonstrates understanding of a wide range of relevant ideas and is consistently well-focused on the text and task. • Relevant ideas are skilfully selected to demonstrate an overview.
4	7–8	• A mostly effective response that demonstrates a competent understanding of a good range of relevant ideas and is consistently well-focused on the text and task. • Relevant ideas are carefully selected and there is some evidence of an overview.
3	5–6	• A partially effective response that demonstrates understanding of a range of relevant ideas with occasional loss of focus on text or task. • Some evidence of selection of relevant ideas but may include excess material.
2	3–4	• A basic response that demonstrates general understanding of relevant ideas and is sometimes focused on text and task. • Some indiscriminate selection of ideas.
1	1–2	• A response that demonstrates limited understanding of relevant ideas and shows limited focus on text and task. • Little evidence of selection of ideas.
0	0	No creditable content.

Table B, Writing

Use the following table to give a mark out of 5 for Writing. This question tests assessment objectives W1, W2 and W3.

Level	Marks	Description
3	4–5	• Expression is clear and fluent. • Organisation is effective. • Concise use of a range of appropriate vocabulary.
2	2–3	• Expression is generally clear. • Organisation is sometimes effective. • Areas of concision but some reliance on the words of the text.
1	1	• Expression lacks clarity. • Organisation is limited. • Includes lifted sections.
0	0	No creditable content.

Question	Answer	Marks
2(b)	Assess the writer's attitude towards wolves and towards the ways in which people have represented them. Use three details from Text B to support your answer. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 2(b) (Table C, Reading). Responses might use the following: • scornful / dismissive of children's tales and the damage they do (paragraph 1): 'Ridiculous tales'; 'corrupted the imagination' • admires wolves' natural abilities and resents them being misread (paragraph 1): 'native pack-hunting talents' contrasted with 'undesirable human characteristics' • exasperated / mocking about horror-film stereotypes and people who refuse to accept the facts (paragraph 2): 'Oh dear!'; 'constantly portrayed'; 'ignoring evidence to the contrary' • even-handed but critical of well-meaning enthusiasts (paragraph 3): 'distorted'; 'holds the wolf in great esteem, but often does so at the expense of …' • affectionate / protective – sees wolves as feeling individuals and defends them against misreading (paragraph 4): 'devotion to its family'; 'capacity for communicating emotion'; 'Mistakenly'	5

Table C, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 5 for Reading. This question tests assessment objectives R2 and R3.

Level	Marks	Description
3	4–5	Clear understanding of the writer's attitude with relevant support from the text.
2	2–3	Some understanding of the writer's attitude with some supporting detail.
1	1	Limited understanding of the writer's attitude.
0	0	No creditable content.

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question 3

This question tests reading assessment objectives R1, R2 and R4 (20 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R4 demonstrate understanding of how writers achieve effects and influence readers.

Question	Answer	Marks
3(a)(i)	Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words in bold: Before numbers started to increase again, wolves were almost non-existent. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer. • (are / were / from / at / on the) edge of extinction (line 17)	1
3(a)(ii)	A stay at Wolf Lodge in Aurora Park comes at a particularly high price. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer. • (the / a / an) eye-watering expense (of the price) (line 27)	1
3(b)(i)	Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words in bold: I extinguish the car lights and step out into the freezing air just as a snowplough comes up the road, driven by my 'devoted host' and 'wildlife expert', Head Keeper, Stig Hansen. 'Follow me in your car,' Stig says softly. 'At the top, when we get out, don't make sudden movements or noises.' extinguish • extinguish: switch off / put out / turn off / put off	1
3(b)(ii)	host • host: person receiving guests / someone looking after (visitors) / person in charge (of your stay) / organiser (of stay)	1
3(b)(iii)	softly Do not credit 'silently'. • softly: quietly / in a low voice / whisper / gently	1

Question	Answer	Marks
3(c)	Use one example from the text below to explain how the website makes Aurora Park sound appealing. Use your own words in your explanation. I check the park's website on my phone: 'Experience Arctic nature up close. Live amongst our rare semi-wild wolves at the ultra-exclusive Wolf Lodge. Revel in the unique feeling of being watched by curious amber eyes; be part of a new story for these marvellous, mythical, misunderstood creatures …' Use the Marking Criteria for Question 3(c) (Table D, Reading). The explanation must be predominantly in the candidate's own words. Responses might use the following: • Experience Arctic nature up close: try it out for yourself without barriers, full sensory involvement • Live amongst our rare semi-wild wolves: not available anywhere else / very few other places; not fully wild so safer/ authentic as still not completely tame; these wolves are known well by them • ultra-exclusive Wolf Lodge: nowhere else offers this; top end; incomparable accommodation; difficult to book; luxury • Revel in the unique feeling: enjoy something never experienced before; be immersed happily in the sensation; an escape from mundane life; once in a lifetime • watched by curious amber eyes: beautiful orange/yellow eyes; precious; nosey/interested; they want to find out about you too • be part of a new story: experience their daily lives; reinvent the narrative around wolves; help them to be better understood; responsibility to help them; important to be involved • marvellous, mythical, misunderstood creatures: admiration/ incredible animals; seem unreal / fictional but are actually real; people have the wrong idea about them; unfair how they are treated; wonderful chance to meet them.	5

Table D, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 5 for Reading. This question tests assessment objectives R1, R2 and R4.

Level	Marks	Description
3	4–5	Clear understanding of the writer's use of language.
2	2–3	Some understanding of the writer's use of language.
1	1	Limited understanding of the writer's use of language.
0	0	No creditable content.

© Cambridge University Press & Assessment 2024

Question	Answer	Marks
3(d)	Choose three powerful words or phrases from the extract below to analyse how the writer uses language to describe meeting the wolf pack. 'Next morning, emboldened by a hearty breakfast, Stig and I venture out and immediately spot the wolf pack loping eagerly towards us. They jump up excitedly, licking our faces. Two of them have a snarling stand-off over who should lick me first but then agree to lick my camera instead. Apart from that one moment, it's all remarkably non-threatening. We stroll to a low snow-covered hill where they do a bit of a howl and hold a wrestling contest. Only when I drop my phone is there a sudden intimation of what can happen. They are instantly curious and pushy, flooded with predatory instincts and the power of the pack. Moving slowly, I retrieve my phone and retreat to a respectful distance. Cute they may be, but cuddly toys they are not.' Write about 200 to 250 words. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 3(d) (Table E, Reading). Notes on the task This question is marked for the ability to select powerful or unusual words and for an understanding of ways in which the language is effective. Expect responses to provide words / phrases that carry connotations additional to general meaning. Mark holistically for the overall quality of the response, not for the number of words chosen, bearing in mind that for the higher bands there should be a range of choices to demonstrate an understanding of how language works, and that this should include the ability to explain images. It is the quality of the analysis that attracts marks. Do not deduct marks for inaccurate statements; simply ignore them. The following notes are a guide to what good responses might say about the selections. Candidates can make any sensible comment, but only credit those that are relevant to the correct meanings of the words in the context and that have some validity. Alternative acceptable explanations should be credited. Credit comments on effects created by non-vocabulary choices such as grammar / syntax and punctuation devices. These must be additional to comments on vocabulary. Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices.	10

Question	Answer	Marks
3(d)	Responses might focus on words or phrases from the following: • emboldened by a hearty breakfast: ready to face the wolves; enjoyed a delicious and satisfying meal; feeling braver now he has eaten a good breakfast; amusing; childlike • venture out: dare to go out; showing some courage; sense of anticipation to explore • (wolf pack) loping eagerly (towards us): awkward; gangly, jaunty movement; dog-like; friendly • (They) jump up excitedly: ebullient welcome; keen to greet them • (a) snarling stand-off: growling at each other; competitive; apparently aggressive contest, though fighting over who gets to say hello first • agree (to lick my camera instead): resolve the argument, as if they have discussed it; compromise suggested • (it's all) remarkably non-threatening: surprisingly amicable; not what was expected, pleasant anti-climax • stroll: slow, casual walk; enjoyable and relaxed • a bit of a howl and hold a wrestling contest: make typical wolf noise and play fight; understated, as if children playing; perceived/presented as light-hearted entertainment • instantly curious and pushy: sudden change; alert and insistent; unexpected; potentially overwhelming • flooded with predatory instincts (and the power of the pack): sudden deluge of natural urges; nature takes over; instinctive behaviour of the group; natural hunters; primeval • retreat to a respectful distance: stepping away; recognising the potential danger in these creatures; acknowledging their power; not presuming to understand or be part of the pack • Cute they may be, but cuddly toys they are not: contrast between physical appeal and their wild nature; mocking childish interpretation; emphasis on 'not' suggests potentially dire consequences for anyone trying to cuddle a real wolf.

Marking Criteria for Question 3(d)

Table E, Reading: Analysing how writers achieve effects

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for Reading. This question tests assessment objectives R1, R2 and R4.

Level	Marks	Description
5	9–10	• Analysis adds meaning and associations to precisely selected words/phrases and demonstrates the writer's reasons for using them. • Explains images with some precision and imagination. • Clear understanding of the writer's use of language.
4	7–8	• Some analysis of carefully selected words and phrases offers secure explanations of meanings within the context of the text. • Begins to identify and explain images. • Some understanding of the writer's use of language.
3	5–6	• Chooses appropriate words and phrases. • Mostly explains meanings of words. • Attempts to suggest and explain effects are basic or general.
2	3–4	• Chooses words and phrases that communicate less effectively within the context of the text. • Explanations repeat the language of the original and/or are general, slight or only partially effective. • Correctly identifies linguistic devices.
1	1–2	• Choice of words is rarely relevant. • Comments offer limited evidence of understanding.
0	0	No creditable content.

© Cambridge University Press & Assessment 2024

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question 4

This question tests reading assessment objectives R1, R2, R3 and R5 (10 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R3 analyse, evaluate and develop facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text

R5 select and use information for specific purposes.

and writing assessment objectives W1, W2, W3 and W4 (10 marks):

W1 articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined

W2 organise and structure facts, ideas and opinions for effect

W3 use a range of vocabulary and sentence structures appropriate to context

W4 use language appropriate to audience and purpose.

Question	Answer	Marks
4	You are Stig Hansen. You have been invited to give a talk about Aurora Park and your work there. In your talk you should explain: • what your job involves and the skills and qualities you feel you need to do the job well • what visitors enjoy about Aurora Park and the security measures you have in place • why the work you and your team are doing at Aurora Park is important for both wolves and humans. Write the words of the talk. Base your talk on what you have read in Text C, but be careful to use your own words. Address each of the three bullet points. Write about 250 to 300 words. Up to 10 marks are available for reading and up to 10 marks for writing. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 4 (Table F, Reading and Table G, Writing). Notes on the task Candidates should select ideas from the text (see below) and develop them relevantly, supporting what they write with details from the text. Look for an appropriate register for the genre, and a clear and balanced response which covers the three areas of the question, is well sequenced, and is in the candidate's own words. Annotate A1 for references to what your job involves and the skills and qualities you feel you need to do the job well. Annotate A2 for references to what visitors enjoy about Aurora Park and the security measures you have in place. Annotate A3 for references to why the work you and your team are doing at Aurora Park is important for both wolves and humans.	20

Marking Criteria for Question 4

Table F, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 10 for Reading. This question tests assessment objectives R1, R2, R3 and R5.

Level	Marks	Description
5	9–10	• The response reveals a thorough evaluation and analysis of the text. • A wide range of ideas is applied. • Developed ideas are sustained and well related to the text. • There is supporting detail throughout, which is well integrated into the response, contributing to a strong sense of purpose and approach. • All three bullets are well covered. • A consistent and convincing voice is used.
4	7–8	• The response demonstrates a competent reading of the text with some evidence of basic evaluation or analysis. • A good range of ideas is evident. • Some ideas are developed but the ability to sustain them may not be consistent. • There is frequent, helpful supporting detail, contributing to a clear sense of purpose. • All three bullets are covered. • An appropriate voice is used.
3	5–6	• The response shows that the text has been read reasonably well. • A range of straightforward ideas is offered. • Opportunities for development are rarely taken. • Supporting detail is present but there may be some mechanical use of the text. • There is uneven focus on the bullets. • The voice is plain.
2	3–4	• There is some evidence of general understanding of the main ideas, but the response lacks focus on the text or the task. • Some brief, straightforward reference to the text is made. • There may be some reliance on lifting from the text. • Limited focus on the bullets. • The voice might be inappropriate.
1	1–2	• There is very limited evidence of engagement with the text. • Content is either insubstantial or unselective. • There is little realisation of the need to modify material from the text.
0	0	No creditable content.
