Read Text A, Animals that migrate, in the insert and then answer Question 1(a)–(f).

Question 1

(a) Give two examples of animals which migrate (other than humpback whales) according to paragraph 1.

- .....
- ..... [1]

(b) Using your own words, explain what the text means by:

(i) 'incredible endurance' (line 5)

.....

..... [2]

(ii) 'facilitated research' (line 7).

.....

..... [2]

(c) Reread paragraph 2 ('Despite … animal movement.').

Give two ways in which migration differs from other types of animal movement.

- .....
- ..... [2]

(d) Reread paragraph 3 ('Astonished … wasn't clear.').

(i) Explain the effect of the word 'Astonished' (line 11) at the start of the paragraph.

.....

.....

..... [2]

(ii) Using your own words, explain why the writer describes tagging a wild zebra as 'no easy task' (line 14).

(e) Reread paragraphs 3 and 4 (‘Astonished … GPS-tagged zebras.’).

(i) Identify two things scientists had to do before they were able to study how far the plains zebras travelled during migration.

- .....
- ..... [2]

(ii) Explain what researchers in the second study did to test what might influence the direction in which migrating zebras travelled.

.....

.....

..... [3]

(f) Reread paragraph 5 (‘Preliminary … lead scientist.’).

Using your own words, explain why some people might not accept the findings of the study as conclusive.

Read Text B, Zozu's story, in the insert and then answer Question 2(a) and 2(b).

Question 2

(a) According to Text B, what are the reasons why changes to animal migrations have occurred and why are these changes worrying?

You must use continuous writing (not note form) and use your own words as far as possible.

Your summary should not be more than 120 words.

Up to 10 marks are available for reading and up to 5 marks for writing.

Read Text C, The last migration, in the insert and then answer Question 3(a)–(d).

Question 3

(a) Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words in bold:

(i) Seeing the flashing signals on the computer screen stops Lotta worrying that the trackers will not work.

..... [1]

(ii) Even though there are still a few bird species left alive, there is no longer any money available to pay for scientists to study them.

..... [1]

(b) Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words in bold:

'I've put trackers on three, but couldn't afford cameras,' I explain, doggedly following Ennis back to his vessel. 'They'll only help to pinpoint where the birds fly. Someone needs to witness how they survive, to learn. Take me south – we'll follow them. If there are fish left, those birds will find them.'

(i) vessel ..... [1]

(ii) pinpoint ..... [1]

(iii) witness ..... [1]

(c) Use one example from the text below to explain how the writer suggests Lotta's attitude to the project.

Use your own words in your explanation.

I'm not sure when dreaming of this last desperate project began, but it's part of me now as much as the instinct for breath. It swallowed me whole – a fantasy quest, securing a place on a fishing vessel and having its captain carry me far south following the longest natural migration of any living creature.

(d) Choose three powerful words or phrases from the extract below to analyse how the writer uses language to describe what Ennis and Lotta find at the end of their journey.

'Months later, the remote shore ahead is magnificent – but empty. I'd told myself it was over when the signals stopped after the last storm; still somehow I'd hoped to see birds, or something, anything, alive. The boat can go no further, so we continue on foot towards the ridge – the only movement anywhere. My heart breaks and then jumps … because something just flew across the sky. More somethings appear, swooping and soaring. I scramble to the summit and – oh, hundreds of terns smother an expanse of unspoiled ice below. Yet more dance upon the air. Dipping gracefully, diving hungrily, in a bay bubbling and thrashing with a million scales. Ennis reaches me with a low rumble of laughter, just as a huge whale fin crowns the sparkling surface. We gasp. What else is hiding in these clean, untouched waters – this sanctuary?'

Write about 200 to 250 words.

Up to 10 marks are available for the content of your answer.

Reread Text C, The last migration, in the insert and then answer Question 4.

Question 4

You are a journalist. You have interviewed Ennis and Lotta months after they have returned from their trip. You write a magazine article about Lotta's research project and the conservation work they are both now involved in.

In your article, you should:

- describe what Lotta did to prepare for the research project and the challenges Lotta faced
- explain why Lotta needed Ennis's help with the project and why Ennis decided to help Lotta
- explain how Ennis and Lotta felt about what happened on their journey and the changes they hope to bring about in the future.

Write the words of the article.

Base your article on what you have read in Text C, but be careful to use your own words. Address each of the three bullets.

Write about 250 to 300 words.

Up to 10 marks are available for reading and up to 10 marks for writing.
